First and ten! Touchdown! Achievement!
 Inflated balloons and enthusiastic spirits soar
 High against a clear, starlit sky.
 The cheering crowd becomes united
 Into one giant soul, longing for victory.

Twenty-two struggling beings,
 Representing five score their number,
 With the power to deliver extreme happiness
 Or to hand down complete depression.

Red and white, contrasting colors,
 Which grasp the ability to bring
 Two thousand contrasting goals together
 In one moment of prevailing success.

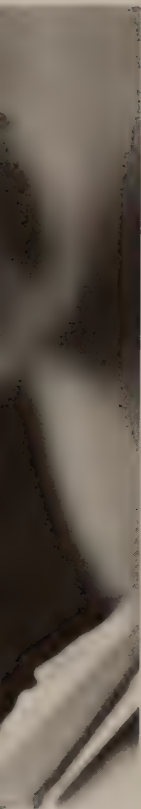

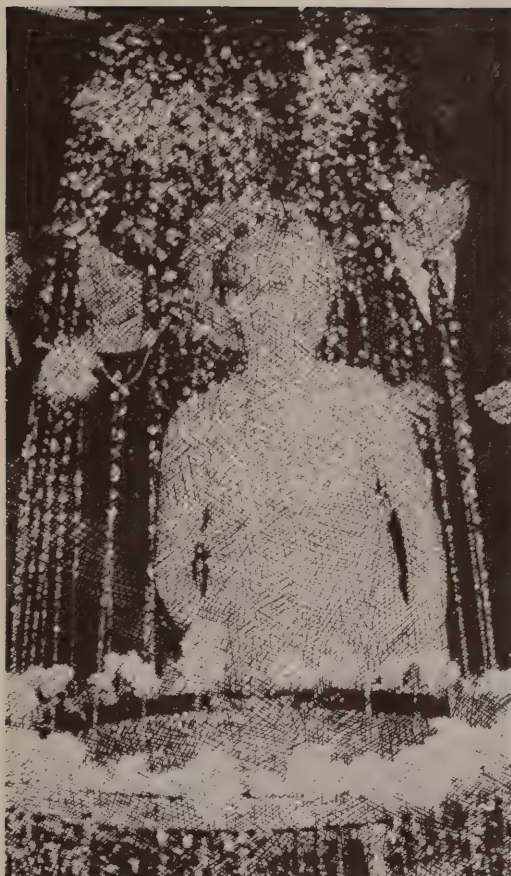

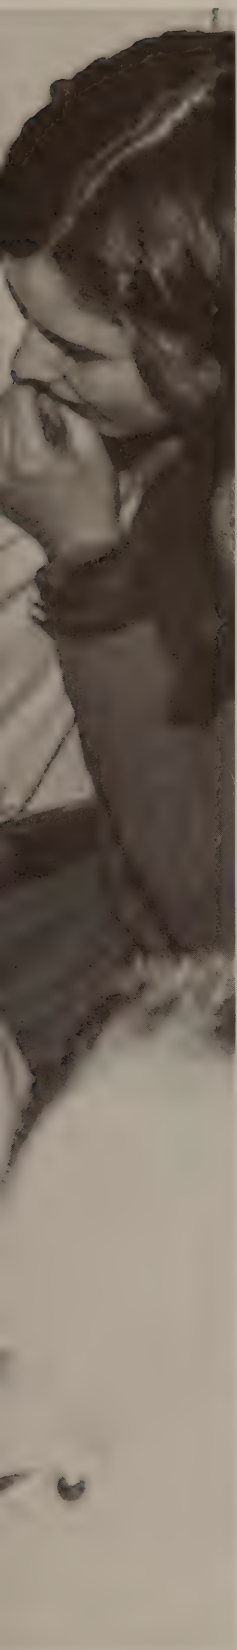

Frustration.
 A desire to join in.
 Suppression of every Inner drive to Participate.
 Longing to help,
 Yet restricted by
 Cold, written words.

STUDENT LIFE

As you read
Through these pages of Reminiscence
And float
Past these mirrors of yesterday
And roll
On the beach of enjoyment
And smell
The corsages of formalities
And dance
To the psychedelic strobe beats
And think
Through assemblies of intelligence . . .
Remember
That the essence of Annandale
Exists
Because of Student Life
And lives
Until our memories die.

New students amass in auditorium for 1967-68 Orientation

Carol Snider, Orientation Chairman, presides over the assembly of new A. H. S. students.

September 1, 1967, was marked E-Day for this year's new students — Entrance to the hectic life of Annandale. Tearful freshmen timidly crept off the buses and braved the awesome, dark halls to the auditorium. There they were met by Carol Snider, Chairman of the Orientation program, who introduced Mr. Finch and the other speakers. Also included in the program were Mrs. Lory from Guidance, Wende Sylvester, president of the S. C. A., and representatives from a few of the clubs organized at Annandale. A sample of the many skits performed throughout the year was given by the Pep Club, and, of course, a varsity football schedule was passed out to every individual.

After the assembly and Coach Bolding's assurance of a great freshman football team, the tension eased and hordes of future Annandale High members took refreshments in the cafeteria. Then came the last frantic rush for buses, and the halls emptied once again, just in time to prepare for the 1967-68 crowd on September 5.

Three new members of the student body listen to the presentation.

A Welcome Back to School reception was held in the cafeteria after the meeting.

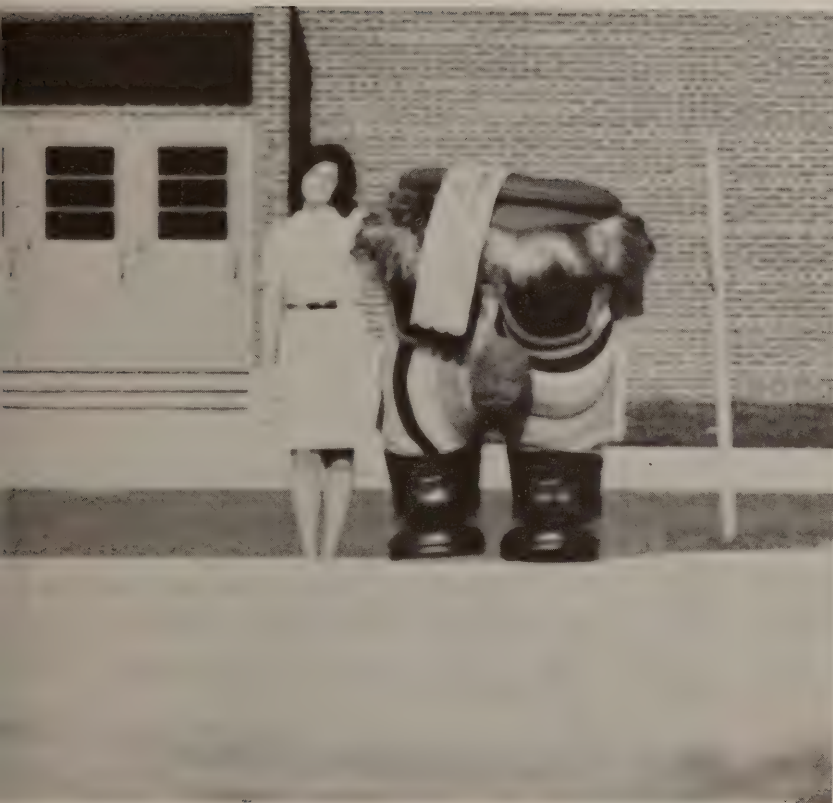

Mod Bods and class skits spark sales in annual Mag Drive

One of the opening events of the 1967-68 year was the fabulous "Mag Drive." In a midst of excitement, laughter, and sometimes chaos, the kick-off assembly was held with each class presenting its own skit to inject that "selling spirit" throughout the entire student body. With the help of Mod Bods and Post Pets, the fearless freshman, and the super sophs, not to mention the jet-fired juniors and the sensational seniors, managed to collect over $11,500, which will net enough profit to send out the shoppers for some needed new band uniforms.

Although Barbara Bancroft and her Magnificent Mag Drive Committee often wondered if their sanity would hold out, they all agreed at the Drive's climax that their lives would never be the same again after the invaluable experience they gained from collecting Mag Money! All and all, the 1967 Mag Drive was one of the most organized events that ever happened to A. H. S.

Janet Moise and Mike Cavalero pursue the wide selection of mags offered during the drive.

Barbara Bancroft, Chairman of the Mag Drive Committee, poses with a near-record-size Mod Bod found wandering the halls during lunch.

Doctor Zhivago theme sets the stage for Homecoming

The first place Sophomore float parades by the stands during half-time.

The 1967 Homecoming Court is presented to the cheering crowd.

The school cafeteria was a lunchroom no longer, but a Russian restaurant and ballroom, created through the combined efforts of the Homecoming committee and the Pep Club to the theme of Doctor Zhivago. On one side were tables, dimly lit by candles and decorated by wine bottles with fragile paper roses. Along the wall stretched a painted mural and the sounds of bubbling water came from a fountain in the center of the floor. Then to the dance floor and the versatile sound of YE BAY RUMS. The mood had taken effect and everyone, chaperones included, appeared to have acquired the Russian love for dance. At ten o'clock the Homecoming court and queen, introduced the night before at the football game, were presented, completing the night's ceremony. The band played its last song at eleven, and the semi-formal Homecoming Dance, long awaited and always important, came to an end.

Senior Girls triumph in Powderpuff Football game, 14-7

All ten junior cheerleaders whoop it up during the game.

Undaunted by the incessant drizzle of rain, enthusiastic Junior and Senior girls met once again on the muddy field of battle for the annual Powderpuff Football Game. Despite various injuries sustained in practices and complaints of aching muscles, both teams came on fighting. The Seniors, enraged by an early Junior touchdown, drove even harder and emerged with their traditional victory, 14-7, though antics of the cheerleaders sparked reactions by both spectators and teams alike.

Harv Moore, WPGC "good guy" was announcer for the game. Because of the efforts of the Charity Committee, headed by Kyle Good, the 1967 Powderpuff Game was a success, bringing in $500 to be donated to selected charities.

Dogpatch comes alive at the 1967 Sadie Hawkins Dance

Because of the efforts of the committees and their chairmen, the 1967 Sadie Hawkins Dance surpassed its traditional standard. Amidst jack-o-lanterns, scarecrows, Keyette vegetable corsages, and students turned hillbillies, the Dogpatch atmosphere was invaded by the rock sound of The Mob. Psychedelic lights set the mood for "hip-billy" weddings performed by Marryin' Sam and his trusty Indian sidekick. Each couple received a wedding certificate bearing the official seal of Dogpatch, AHS, matching wedding bands, a flower, and a ten second kiss. The three hours of relaxed Dogpatch fun sped by, but not before every participant had thoroughly enjoyed himself.

"Are you sure this isn't Haight-Ashbury?"

Some very contented residents of Dogpatch AHS.

English satire presented to seniors by drama department

John Butz explains to Julie Paradis why he is wearing those shoes.

The Admirable Crichton, James M. Barrie's satire on English society, charmed every viewer as this year's selection for the fall play. Open to the public on November 17 and 18, The Admirable Crichton was also presented in a special showing for the senior English classes. The major characters of Crichton, Ernest, Lady Mary, and Lord Loam were skillfully portrayed by John Butz, Mike Cavallero, Julie Paradis, and Gilbert Shaw, respectively. Assisted by Gayle Ramsey, Mrs. Summers once again displayed her ability to channel amateur talent toward professionalism. Because of the many hours of hard work by many students and teachers, the scenery, program, publicity, and other committees were able to present one of Annandale's best performed fall plays.

Lord Loam's servants attend the once-a-month tea where they are treated as peers.

Gilbert Shaw, playing Lord Loam, tries to remember the saying which has guided him throughout life.

Mike Cavallero, as Ernest Wooley, receives word from Lord Loam that he has become chief hunter for the shipwrecked crew.

Frizbees and fortune-telling gypsies liven up S.C.A. Carnival

On October 7, the annual S.C.A. carnival was presented. Every club was invited to have a booth, and the enthusiastic response helped make this year's carnival successful. The purpose is to supply fun and entertainment for the children of the local neighborhoods, who showed their appreciation by coming out and taking advantage of our efforts. Some of the booths included: cake roulette by the Sophomore class, a fortune-telling booth by the Math Honor Society, the F.T.A. string pull, and the Key Club's sponge throw. Other booths were a Frizbee throw, White Elephant sale, cake walk, and refreshment stands. The S.C.A. sponsored Ranger Hal, who came to meet the local children and present one of his shows. An unexpected added attraction was the Annandale Atom football team arriving after practice to get in on the fun. All concerned enjoyed themselves and look forward to next year.

"And then he ordered five large sundaes!"

Papa Boatright's homemade peach ice-cream was the speciality of the class of 69's annual Ice Cream Social this year. Backed by the decor of an old ice cream parlor and the rocking music of T & T Soul Syndicate, couples crowded into the cafeteria to eat and dance off the calories. The waitresses, junior girls, eagerly took order after order of banana splits, ice cream sundaes, ice-cream cake and the traditional "69 Special", a conglomeration of every edible thing in the kitchen. The highlight of the evening came in the form of an ice-cream eating contest. Representatives from each class challenged junior Jim Hottle, and valiantly gulped down endless bowls of peach ice-cream. Despite the green faces of a few, the close of this year's Ice Cream Social saw everyone looking eagerly forward to next year's version.

"And how much did we make this time?"

1968 It's Academic team competes in January

Our It's Academic team this year consisted of Carol Snider, Dave Adamson, captain, and Dave Schultz. They competed against St. Albans and Richard Montgomery, coming in third with a score of 140 points. The program was exciting even though we lost. It seemed unbelievable that all those complicated math problems could be answered! The team was chosen by judges after those interested took an oral exam. A second team was also chosen in the event that one of the first team members couldn't contend. The second team consisted of Suzanne Merrow, Bonnie Keleher, and George Nield.

Key Club gives Sweetheart Dance

Among hearts, cupids, and decorations of pink and red, the boys of Annandale High danced with their favorite dates at the annual Sweetheart Dance. While the "Brown Paper Bag" provided the music, and semi-formal dress helped make the evening one to remember, the excellent preparation and sponsorship of the Key Club was responsible for the dance's success. The Sweetheart court, elected by the Key Club, was presented and Jean Schexneilder was crowned queen by Mr. Dorminey.

"You're kidding!"

Snowball Dance lives up to name on a snowy January evening

The Snowball Dance, very appropriately named, was held after Christmas this year, after being postponed once because of snowy, rainy weather. The theme was an old-fashioned park and some of the highlights included a demolished gazebo, tiny pink tea roses for bouquets, and crayons to decorate individual tablecloths. Chairman for the dance was Liz Ellis, who coordinated all the arrangements, including the making of cookies and table decorations by the clubs. The band was the T and T and the Soul Syndicate, a fabulous soul band. Miss Annandale and her court reigned over the Winter Wonderland scene.

The Class of '68 dedicates yearbook to Mr. Robert P. Dorminey

Mr. Robert P. Dorminey

As new to Annandale High as we were four years ago, Mr. Robert Dorminey became a member of the Class of 1968 from the moment he became our sponsor. We remember his encouragement at the first spaghetti dinner and his help cleaning up even after the very last eater and dancer had left. Each year he quietly joined in with us by doing the unobvious work: being there with the keys at the right time or helping to build a gondola out of a canoe. If we added all the hours that he generously gave to our class advising, chaperoning, and being there when we needed him, there would be at least one hour for every member of the class. Even after leaving his teaching to serve in the less-rewarding job of an administrator, he always supplied his enthusiasm: from advertising our activities to wearing a button on spirit day. He brought out the "stuff" that made our class work together from the start. We thank you, Mr. Dorminey, for being a genuine Class of '68 Booster and a true and unforgettable friend.

James G. Finch, Principal.

Mr. Finch, Principal, demonstrates pride in Annandale High

Mr. Finch delivers another proud speech concerning the Atoms "number 1" status.

Always willing to listen to the suggestions and complaints of faculty and students alike, Mr. James G. Finch is well known throughout the school for his fairness in all matters. Keeping the image and the good of the school in the forefront at all times, he continually strives to "keep a good thing going." In connection with this objective, he confers with students at class and SCA legislative meetings, trying always to understand the students' viewpoint. Whether lending his team enthusiastic support at football games, meeting with students, signing vouchers for field trips and club trips, trying to "get things moving" for someone, or opening up the school on Saturday for the Antenna staff, Mr. Finch serves Annandale with tireless enthusiasm.

Col. Clarke and Mr. Siemens assist in administrative duties

Probably the most sought after person in Annandale, Col. Finley T. Clarke, works many hours in many capacities to help make Annandale "the best." As Assistant Principal for Administration, Col. Clarke is continually busy in some part of the school, whether unlocking doors for those forgetful few who lock their keys in their room or struggling with the schedule to fit innumerable activities into limited time slots. Working just as diligently in another capacity is Mr. Walter L. Siemens, Assistant Principal for Instruction in the science and math departments. Completing his first full year at Annandale, he is actively involved in the school and its problems.

Mr. Robert T. Dorminey, Administrative Aide.

Although faced with difficult disciplinary matters, Mr. Robert T. Dorminey, Administrative Aide, is well-liked and greatly respected by all. His quiet, firm manner has saved many an uncertain situation and gained him the admiration of students, faculty and parents. In fact, he maintains that his most difficult job is that of answering parent's questions.

While Mr. Dorminey works with students and parents, Mr. James E. Clark, Assistant Principal for Instruction in the humanities department, works closely with the teachers under his supervision. His service, too, is greatly appreciated by the school.

Guidance Department offers college advice to all grades

Filing transcripts for anxious, college-bound seniors, preparing unsuspecting juniors for the horrors of P.S.A.T.'s and National Merit, warning carefree Sophomores of upcoming responsibilities, rescheduling and rescheduling and rescheduling . . . All this and more fills the busy days of the guidance counselors at Annandale. When not concerned with these and other duties, the counselors may be found engaged in earnest conference with students, parents, teachers, or each other.

Drama As Literature, Honors Courses added to English Dept.

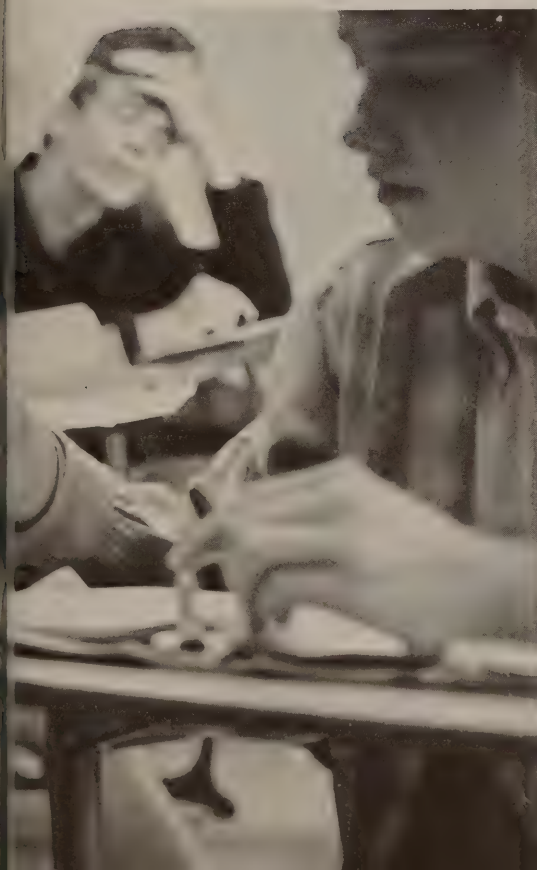

This year saw many innovations and additions to Annandale's English Department. Due to the school's growing student body, the staff was increased to twenty teachers. Honors English courses were set up to enable accelerated students to study the regular curriculum in depth, and a new course, Drama As Literature, was received with enthusiastic response by the student body. In connection with the English Department the Drama Department staged several excellent productions. Team teaching, supplementary classroom materials, and additional professional literature and funds for the Resource Center were among other exciting innovations this year.

The language department is a hectic one this year since the Language Lab has been opened. German, French, Russian, Latin, and Spanish are taught up to fifth year credits. The teachers stress thinking, studying, and talking in their specific language, so if you happen to hear a certain senior wandering down the hall whispering "Ich bin, du bist, er ist . . .", it's not the College Board's fault, but maybe Mrs. Worrell's!. If you're interested in learning a language and the culture that goes with it, drop in on a class or language club meeting. Maybe you'll learn something new! Oiu?

New World Affairs class studies current events in depth

Thou shalt not . . .

What's going on in your world? To find out, drop in on the World's Affairs course, or Geography, or any of the other classes in Annandale's Social Studies Department and learn! This year the department filled out its packed schedule with a World Affairs class, instructed by Mr. Bartlett. The class covers current events, and its textbook is the newspaper. Other classes taught are Geography, World History, U.S.-Va. History, Government, Sociology, and Economics. All do their best to keep the students aware and interested in the world we live in and where it's going.

Mr. Parnell checks a definition in the back of his government book.

Math Dept. organizes a math honor society for students

Along with the characteristic maze of bewildering slide rules, multi-shaped graphs, and unsolvable word problems, several new features brightened up the Math Dept. this year. The newly formed math team and math honor society, Mu Alpha Theta, became firmly established under the direction of the Math Dept. Several speakers were scheduled to talk to interested students. Through these and other activities, the Dept. sought to increase the students' interest and participation outside the regular curriculum offered at Annandale.

Science Dept. satisfies questioning minds of curious students

Mr. Siemens and Mr. Bugin take a break from discussing prevention of equipment loss.

Why is the sky blue? Does the moon set during the day? Are the stars far away? These are a few of the intelligent questions the Science department probes every day, striving to find the right answers. The Science department covers the Biology, Earth Science, Chemistry, Science IX, and Physics classes. Every day, students discover new facts about themselves and the world around them. To find out if you're anemic, drop in on Mrs. Jarman during Lab day. To decipher formulas and seemingly meaningless numbers and letters, like H_2O or Cl_6 , the Chemistry class is always open. Next year all the Science classes are going to rebel and turn all their chemicals over, completely destroying Annandale! Wouldn't you like to be a part of the fun?

Business Department

The Business Education Department at Annandale High School greeted three new teachers in September. Miss Claire Cannon from the University of North Carolina joined our staff to teach Shorthand; Mr. Robert Barnes from Arizona University to teach Typing I & II and Consumer Math; and Mr. Thomas Secules from William and Mary is dividing his time between General Business and coaching Varsity Football. Mrs. Woodson is now chairman of the department. Their curriculum takes care of the college bound student by means of Notehand and Personal Typing. Mrs. Melton has speakers, demonstrations, and films presented on Office Automation, Poise, Stenotype and the Keysort relating to classroom studies in Office Training.

If you're interested in building a canoe or jamming a radio station, chances are you're already in the Industrial Arts department. The department provides shop, engineering, and mechanical drawing for those interested in an industrial career. Mr. Beto, Mr. Shriver, Mr. Schwartz, and Mr. Crosier are always on hand to instruct. The department makes hall passes and pointers for teachers and sometimes displays work done by the students in the front lobby showcases.

Home Ec girls experiment

The smell of burning toast and fried chicken penetrates the walls of the Social Studies Department. Mouths water; eyes burn from acrid smoke. What's the reason for the disturbance? It's the girls in Home Ec, experimenting with their experienced cooking talent! Aside from turning out delectable foods, the girls also sew, turning out attractive outfits for the front lobby display case. Mrs. Hudgins, Miss Elzinga, and Mrs. Kail instruct the girls in different phases of home-making (and first aid when an occasional finger gets stabbed by a needle or charred by a pan.) All the girls are busy, though. Someday they'll make those men awfully happy!

Music Department adds new zest to school assemblies

The mighty Atom band drums up spirit at an indoor pep rally.

Mr. Harold C. Connell, choral director, directs the chorus at one of the assemblies.

Bringing new life to the music department this year is Mr. Robert F. Doster, Annandale's new band director. Somehow managing to instill increased unity and enthusiasm among the band members, Mr. Doster proudly displayed the skill and spirit of the band as they marched at football games, livened up pep rallies and campaign speeches, played Santa Claus to the Tiny Tots, and lent a more serious melodic note to assemblies. Sharing the spotlight at most assemblies were the various choral groups under the direction of Mr. Harold Connell. From the well planning of the director, the choral assemblies emerged with a new and better sound to heighten interest and enjoyment of the listeners.

Mr. Robert F. Doster gave new life to the band this year, his first as Atom band Director.

Art students learn principles of drawing while blindfolded

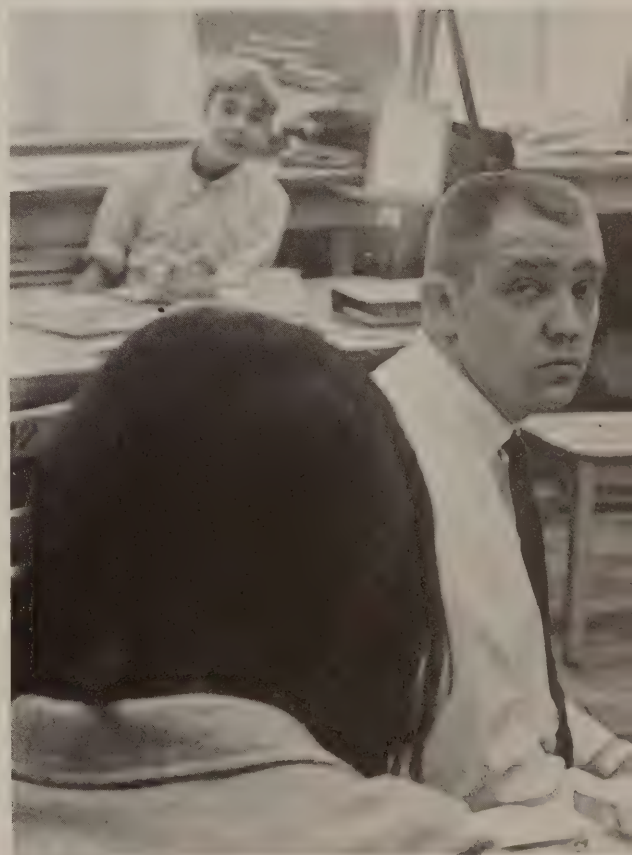

Whether drawing screwdrivers, can-openers and sponges in a blindfolded contour drawing session, pestering Mr. Shriver to cut masonite panels for painting, writing research papers, or trying to discover who painted the first non-objective painting, students from Art I to Art IV were ably guided to a new appreciation of art this year. Among the many projects pursued by the students were acrylic paintings, wire sculptures, color paintings, linoleum block printings, and contour drawing. Along with these individual projects, the students received excellent instruction in the principles of drawing, painting, sculpturing, and print-making.

Physical Education Dept. instructs Annandale's athletes

Amid the smell of sweaty socks and the bustle of tardy, screaming people, the finest athletes of Annandale High come bounding out the doors of tiny lockerooms. To whom does the credit go? It goes to the excellent, thoughtful faculty in the P.E. Department. The teachers struggle daily with problems like, "Oh Mrs. Haskell, I just sprained my ankle coming from first period, so I can't run the 600 today!" or "I guess the stupid gym suit's at home, or maybe somebody stole it . . . Yea! That's what happened!" Even though teachers are sometimes discouraged and tearful, they strive for their own personal goals. Perhaps it's just the sight of a timid girl facing up to the parallel bars and giving an A+ routine. Whatever it is that the teachers seek, they must, at least sometimes, catch a glimpse of it, for they survive another year.

Student Cooperative Association sells itself to the student body

The well-known S.C.A. seemed to put its foot into every phase of Annandale life this year. Thanks to S.C.A. president Wende Sylvester, vice-president Dave Hanline, secretary Merry Melancon, and treasurer Pam Lago, all activities went smoothly, if not perfectly. This year's sponsors were Miss Garber, Mr. Henretty, and Colonel Clark, who sat through heated legislature meetings, empty open sessions, and crowded assemblies with smiles of assurance. The biggest sale the organization tried to carry off this year was the sale of itself to the student body. The members of the S.C.A., by reporting about all meetings to their classes, urged all students to join in S.C.A. affairs and to voice their own opinions, because the S.C.A. serves the students. Thanks to all you who joined in this year to make our student government a success.

National Honor Societies tutor students, sponsor programs

Need a tutor? Dig one out of the "beautiful people" of Annandale, an Honor Society member. It may be hard for you to latch on to one, though, for they're usually busy making A's and planning induction ceremonies. This year the Society again sponsored delegates to the mock U.N. General Assembly in the spring. The Senior Honor Society had as president, Jerry Miller; vice-president, Felix Millhouse; treasurer, Keith Kearney; and secretaries, Flo Moses and Dana Arnold. The Junior Honor Society's officers were Steve Houseworth, president; Janet Palmer, vice-president; Mary Petersilia, secretary; Lynn Williams, treasurer; and Leon Harkleroad, sergeant-at-arms.

French Club active at S.C.A. carnival, Christmas party

Parle' vous Francais? This year's French Club, sponsored by Miss Stephanz, was kept in line by its president Peter Erickson, vice-president Doug Pauli, secretary Jane Desmond, and treasurer Carla McKinney. The club participated in the SCA Carnival and the Interclub Christmas Party. Films were run by the members at their meetings to give information on the country of the language they're learning, France. Later in the year the club hopes to visit the French Embassy and go out to eat at a French restaurant.

"I know what it looks like but eat it anyway."

For all students interested in the language and culture of Spanish-speaking countries, Annandale High School's Spanish Club provided both educational and recreational activities. Besides entertaining twenty-four Mexican students traveling with the International Experiment in Living, the club members visited Latin American Embassies, the Pan American Union Building, and El Bodegon, a Spanish restaurant.

The National Spanish Honor Society joined in many of the Spanish Club's activities this year, as well as urging all members to participate in the National Spanish Test and organizing the annual ceremony to induct new members.

Though some people claim the Latin language is dead, you could never convince the ever-active Latin Club of it. Romani Hodierni, as it is known to members, visited the campuses of both UVA and Mary Washington College this year, and worked on many projects in connection with the Fairfax Area Latin Club Association. On the school level, the Latin Club sold candy, participated in the S.C.A. Carnival and was responsible for some of the beautiful flowers and centerpieces at the Snowball Dance. Thanks to Annandale's sponsors, a local theater made available several films on Latin culture to all area students.

The Germanic language studies of AHS students were further enriched through the efforts of the German Club and German National Honor Society this year. Along with enjoying many cultural activities, the members of the two organizations built a "Stein Spartans" float for Homecoming, set up a refreshment booth at the S.C.A. Carnival, decorated doors for Sankt Nicholasfest, had dinner at the Bavarian Inn, and went Christmas caroling. Other plans for the year included trips to the German Embassy, a German school, and German restaurants.

Russian Club visits Embassy

This year's Russian Club was sponsored by Mrs. Little. Vicky Kemp was pres., Susan Smith vice-pres., Mary Beth Parotta, secretary, and Ken Roberson was treasurer. They met monthly and learned more about the culture and customs of Russia by visiting the Russian Embassy, the U.S. Information Agency, and the Voice of America. They also made plans to see Dimka, a Russian film put on by the Fairfax Culture Association, and Tolstoy's War and Peace. For spring, they planned to see "Kamkin's Russian Book Stores."

Math team and Honor Society spark interest in mathematics

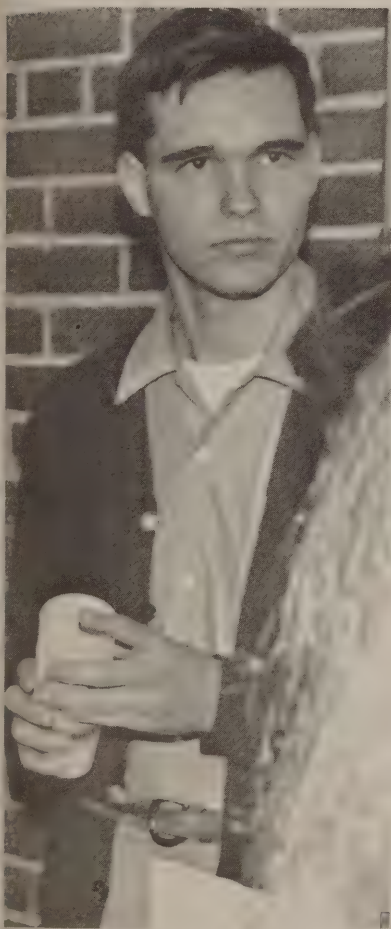

George Nield conducts the induction ceremonies.

Last year's championship Math team was succeeded this year by a group of students equally enthusiastic and qualified to win. In competing with the eighteen other county schools, the team of five members and one alternate work at problems at a specific time. Besides an efficiency in Math, calm nerves and clear thinking are needed to compete.

The Math Honor Society exists as a society for students showing excellence in the field of Mathematics. Members must be B Math students and be taking Algebra II. Conferences with special speakers are held throughout the year.

Drama, Thespians present plays

The Annandale H.S. Drama Club, sponsored by Mrs. Summers, allows interested students to pursue various aspects of theatrical work. All members are encouraged to work in the field that interests them, be it acting, sets design, props, or costumes. Through work in cooperation with the Thespian Society and stage crew, the Drama Club has helped produce "The Enchanted Doll Shop", "The Admirable Chrichton", "The Importance of Being Ernest", and "Camelot", the school's spring musical.

Thespians, an Honor Society of the Drama Department, is comprised of students who have shown quality in working on theatrical productions. Inductions are held twice a year, in Autumn and Spring, to welcome new members. Thespians are expected to work on Drama Department activities and their enthusiastic participation was obvious in the results of those productions staged.

Literary Magazine publishes selected works of students

To select and organize the outstanding literary and artistic achievements of the Annandale student body became the goal of editor, Dave Adamson, and his Literary Magazine staff. Published in the spring, the Fallout displayed selected poems, short stories, and essays submitted by interested students.

Editor-in-chief David Adamson works diligently in the spacious clutter of the literary magazine room.

Antenna Staff dominated by hard working members

Anita Coles, Editor-in-Chief.

Twenty-odd students crowded into one small, cluttered, noisy room, all joined by a common bond—disbelief at the hours of work actually needed to produce each page of the 1967-68 Antenna. Amid all of the mad confusion of afternoon and evening working sessions, the frustrations of vainly trying to borrow just one more typewriter, and the exhausted sighs of relief as each deadline passed, a year-book was produced. The staff, headed by Anita Coles, Editor-in-Chief, was one of the hardest-working, most congenial staffs in the history of Annandale. Out of these twenty-odd diligent staff members, a number of students displayed an exceptional amount of talent, fortitude, and working ability: John Gilchrist, the indispensable head photographer and photographic editor, who put more time, talent, and energy into this book than anyone else; Fran Cirillo, whose ability to straighten out financial difficulties, along with her talent for typing, saved many a situation; Mary LaMantia, Joan Gardner, Vickie Andrews, and Connie Casey, who were always willing to help in any way at any time; and Denise Worley, who spent many extra hours drawing layouts, cropping pictures, and writing copy.

Special thanks also go to Mr. Odom, our advisor, who offered valuable assistance in times of crises; Mrs. Shear, who spent so much time helping us keep in touch with photographers, publishers, and irate complainers; Capt. Breitenberg, who helped us with faculty pictures; all of the teachers who were so good about excusing students for Antenna pictures (especially our long-suffering next-door neighbor); and, above all, Mr. Finch, who helped us in so many ways .

Class Editors, all of whom did a fantastic job: Barbara Bancroft and Hope Heaven, Senior Editors; Robby Robinson and Kyle Good, Junior Editors; John Coles and Ruth Wilbur, Sophomore Editors; Helen Wood, Freshman Editor.

John Gilchrist, the Antenna's indispensable head photographer.

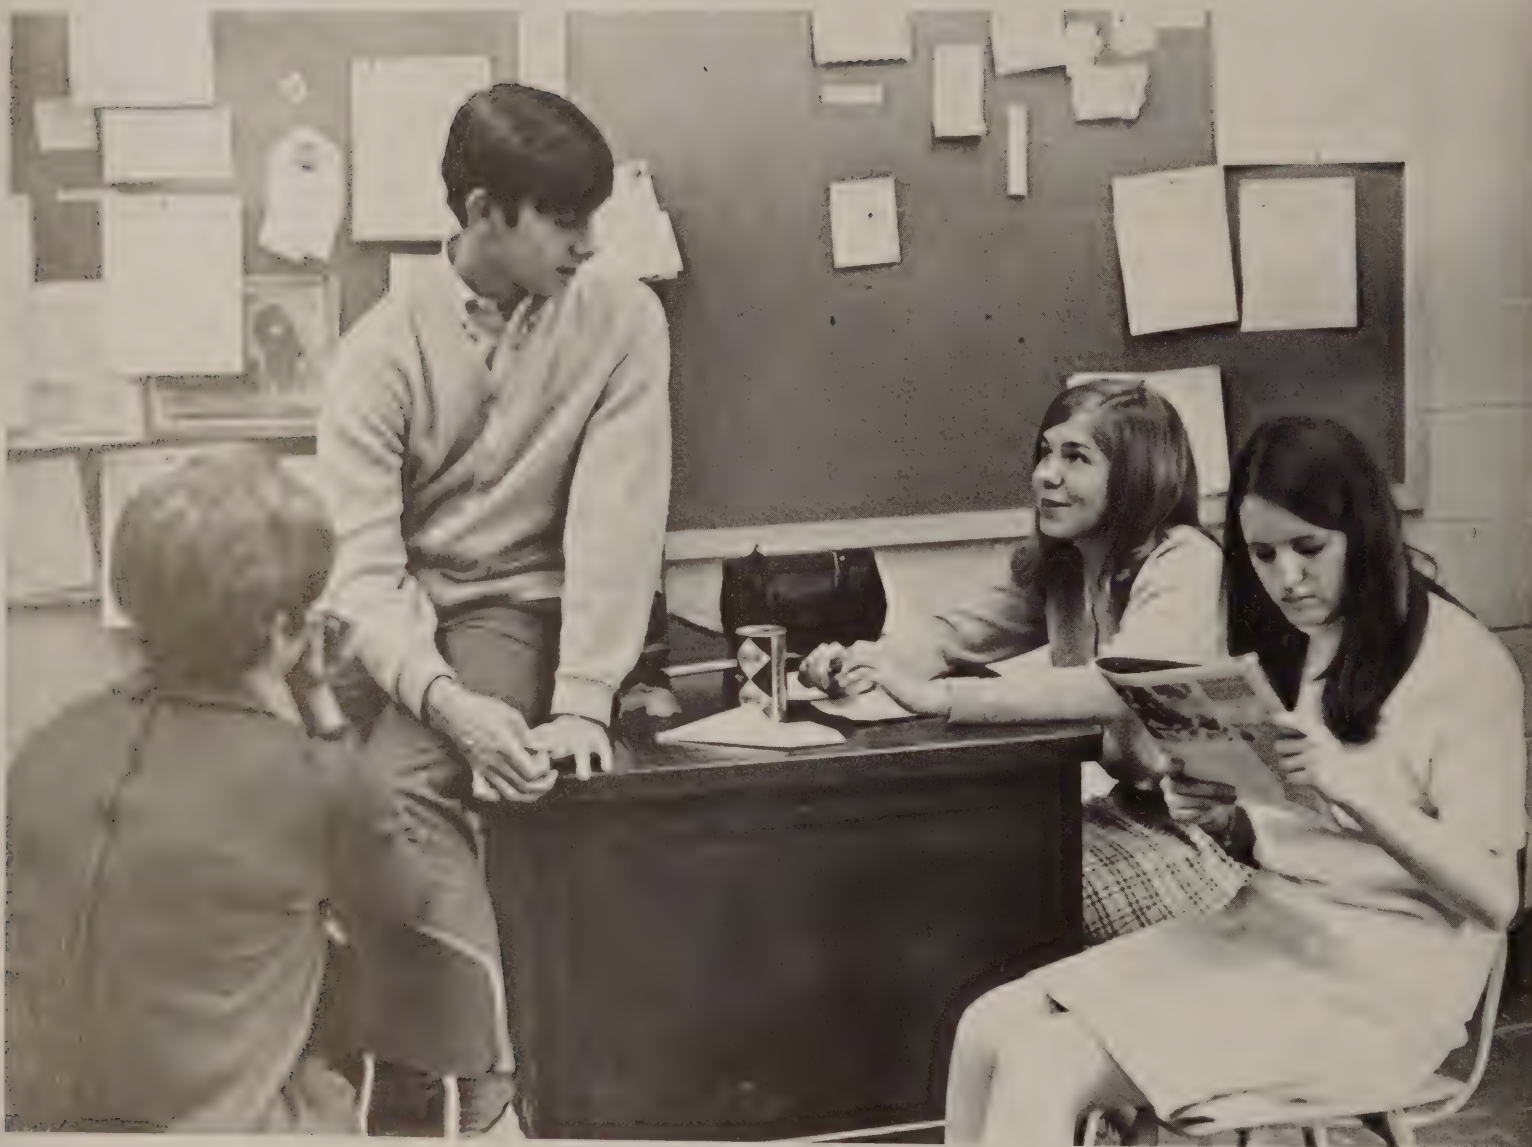

Sports Editors: Jerry Miller and Mark Parris; and Denise Worley, who organized their efforts.

Photographers: Dexter Omori, Scott Hopkins, Tom White, Phil Bard.

Keyettes help Headstart program and the Children's Hospital

Homecoming brought out a Slurp Your Way to Victory float . . .

Designed to serve the school and community, the 1967-68 Keyette Club filled the year with activities. Sponsored by Mrs. Cassidy, math teacher, the girls made Powder Puff game programs, Sadie Hawkins corsages, bean bags for Headstart, and millions of cookies for Christmas and bake sales. They stuffed cloth animals for the Children's Hospital, cut grass in the triangle plot in the center of Annandale, acted as hostesses at the SPTA Open House, sent clothes to Viet Nam and Honduras with the Key Club, worked at the T.B. Center and for the Heart Association, held a mother-daughter pot luck supper, and had exciting slumber parties. In the spring, the club planned to carry on a "Clean Up the Cafeteria" week and hold another activity with the Key Club.

Ideas for Keyette projects are formulated.

Key Club sponsors a cafeteria Clean-up Week, sells fireworks

Whether selling fireworks or participating in the March of Dimes, the Key Club proved its spirit of service by working for both school and community. This year they collected clothing to send to Viet Nam and sponsored a cafeteria clean-up week. Club members were also most enthusiastic about parking cars for PTA meetings, football games, and various other activities. Annandale's community appreciates this and all the help given by these civic-minded boys of Annandale High School.

How would you like to stay up until midnight baking cookies that you forgot had to go to that bake sale at 9:00 Saturday morning? If you like that sort of work, and a lot of excitement, you're in one of the active Annandale Tri-Hi-Y's. The girls help needy families, sponsor refreshments for different meetings, work with the Salvation Army and welfare agencies, carol at Christmas, and, most of all, they have a lot of fun! Everyone becomes involved in bettering the school and community of Annandale, and everyone learns how to work his hardest to reach a well earned goal, without thought of reward, and that's a pretty satisfying feeling.

Civitans demonstrate their school service.

Junior Civitans is primarily a service club formed to help Annandale. Its officers this year were Becky Smith, pres.; Diane George, vice-pres.; Laurie Crichton, sec.; Ric Provenzano, treas.; and Brad Hamilton, Sergeant-at-Arms. This year the club expanded its membership to an average of 50 people, all interested in helping the school and community. They sanded off all those rough edges on the cafeteria chairs, helped needy families, held a convention on the tenth of April at Williamsburg, contributed a large sum of money to the Retarded Children fund, and just generally made Annandale a greater place to live in. The members deserve a big "thanks" for contributing so much time and effort.

AFS student Genny Ocampos greeted by Annandale students

This year the AFS Club decided to send an Annandale representative overseas as a member of the Americans Abroad Program. To raise money for this goal, the club sold Spook Insurance during Halloween and held a bake sale. AFS week gave all students a chance to meet Genny Ocampos, our foreign exchange student, at the opening assembly. Members also visited several embassies and heard guest speakers, helping them to understand those parts of the world they could not visit.

Future Teachers of America, renowned for being one of the few clubs in AHS with orderly, parliamentary meetings, filled this year with activities planned to give members a better insight into the teaching side of education. Assisting the faculty at its Fall Tea, Back to School Night, and Student Orientation, along with visiting NEA and FTA State Conventions helped students see the official and recreational side of education. Two trips to state colleges are planned so that club members can learn of the opportunities offered in the teaching field.

FHA says, "Sew up Spartans!"

Homecoming float, fashion show highlight year for FHA

The future homemakers began the year with a baby shower for Mrs. Chester, a former home economics teacher at Annandale. The next major activity was the building of a float for the homecoming game. The motto was "Sew Up Spartans" and won for the club an honorable mention. A Saturday afternoon was spent during November touring the campus of Madison College. At Christmas the girls held a Mother-Daughter Tea and prepared a basket of canned goods for the Salvation Army. Guest speakers and future projects are to be centered around the point of emphasis for the year, "Citizenship Challenges You." Spring was highlighted by the annual SPTA fashion show presented by FHA and the home economics department. A year end dinner banquet was planned for May for presentation of degrees and the installation of new officers.

Art Guild decorates front windows, sets up classroom shows

Art IV students Wendy Chandler and Nancy Hardee prepare art shows for the classrooms at Annandale.

The Art Guild at AHS, since its creation 7 or 8 years ago, has been in the status of a "Non-Official" school club, being composed primarily of the Art IV class, sometimes including Art III. Sponsored by Mr. Roberson, Art teacher, it is totally a work group and school service group. It has no president; all members are "Vice-Presidents". Activities—past, present, and future—have included decoration of school front windows for Christmas, production and sale of copper enameled jewelry, school art straws, classroom art straws for teachers in areas other than art, and a field trip to New York to visit Art Galleries.

Under the sponsorship of Commander Curtis, the Amateur Radio Club has been reaching new goals this year. Members are taught Morse Code and electrical theory, in order that they can pass their amateur license requirements. Future Business Leaders of America attend conventions

In order that students may gain experience to aid them in a business career, the FBLA was formed. To orient them to the world of commerce, this year's club members toured the parts of the Pentagon, Senate, and Commerce Building which were related to their goals, as well as taking part in state and national conventions. By selling Christmas candles and zip code directories, the FBLA raised money for their activities, which also included dinner at the Peter Pan Inn.

Junior Varsity and Freshman cheerleaders demonstrate spirit

Lori and Debbie show their spirit.

Bringing a good deal of spirit and encouragement to underclass sports this year, were the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. This spirit, accomplished through diligent cheerleading practices and enthusiastic support at all games and matches, was quickly communicated to all fans and players. Freshman cheerleaders, too, possessed this great enthusiasm, for, forced to bring up the rear in the pep trains, the Freshman cheerleaders soon followed faithfully in the footsteps of their older counterparts. Along with their regular weekly practices, the cheerleaders made cakes for the Frosh football players, put locker signs (usually on the wrong lockers), wrote soon-to-be-burned "pep" letters to the football players, and made a Homecoming sign for the team.

Varsity Cheerleaders lead the way in new cheerleading club

Last year a Cheerleading Club was formed to unite the girls on the Freshman, Junior Varsity and Varsity squads. The club has had a busy year, to say the least. For football season, the girls raced through the halls in pep trains, cheered at all the games and pep rallies, decorated the goal posts at home games, and sold decals, shakers and ribbons. When Basketball and Wrestling season began, they cheered for all games and matches, wrote pep letters, and cheered in the cafeteria to promote spirit for the sports.

In the season's opener against Falls Church, Annandale extended its record to twenty-two victories in three years, foreshadowing another season. Although the offense appeared somewhat sluggish, they still scored fifteen points, while the alert defense squad held the Jaguars to seven points. Annandale made it twenty-three at Madison with Ron Frere blocking a punt in the end zone for a second quarter safety. Early in the fourth quarter halfback Jeff Von Beulwitz blasted in from the eight yard line to cap a sixty-five yard scoring drive. Up against a supposedly tough opponent, Annandale downed Fort Hunt 27-13. Jeff Von Beulwitz and Tom Hegarty, the Atom's unstoppable running backs, gained more than three hundred yards in forty carries and scored two TDs. Rick Ellson passed to Steve Patterson for one score and contributed another in an eight-yard run, while a tenacious Atom defense led by Ted Tedesco and the Frere twins held the Federals to two touchdowns. Making it twenty-five in a row, Annandale demolished Langley 34-0.

The defense effortlessly controlled Langley's offense and scored some points of its own as Frere intercepted a Langley pass and went thirty yards for a TD. Doug Dendt connected to Chip Burden for one TD and Von Beulwitz and Tom Hegarty contributed the other three scores. Annandale repeated the carnage of its opposition the following week as it ripped helpless Lee, 33-6. Playing only one half the game, Von Beulwitz scored four touchdowns and Hegarty scored one. In a total rout, the Atom's massive defensive line, led by the Freres and Tedesco, stopped Stuart's running game with a net-seven yards. Unable to complete a pass until the third quarter, Stuart's total yardage was seventeen yards. In contrast, Jeff Von Beulwitz gained ninety-three yards and two touchdowns while Rick Ellson passed to Lopes for one and ran for another to make it twenty-seven straight for Annandale.

Annandale was severely jolted but was able to overcome a great Woodson team in its hardest fought game of the season. After the ball seesawed between the two teams for the entire first quarter, Annandale set up its first TD when linebacker Steve Willis recovered a fumble deep in Woodson territory. In two plays the Atoms scored as Jeff Von Beulwitz plunged across the goal line and Rick Ellson made the extra point on an end run. Woodson bounced back at the beginning of the second half to score on a forty-six yard run cutting the Atom's lead to 7-6. The game continued to seesaw until the final period when a Woodson back dropped a punt and Bob Commerford pounced on it at the eight yard line. Annandale then scored as Ellson connected to Phil Connaty across the goal line. With twenty seconds left to play, Woodson scored after our defense had held on three plays with a massive goal line defense. In the nerve-wracking last eighteen seconds, Woodson missed the extra point and Annandale emerged victorious but weary with a final score of 13-12.

In the next two games, Annandale effortlessly breezed past West Springfield 38-0 and Jefferson 39-12. Annandale avenged itself with Fairfax, the school that had kept them from another state championship in 1966, by defeating the Rebels 26-7, thus winning a berth in the Regional Playoff. The game was highlighted by Von Beulwitz's tackle breaking seventy yard run which set up a touchdown pass from Ellson to Ron Sullivan. On November 18, Annandale decimated Yorktown, 27 to 7 to clinch its second state championship, as the impregnable Atom defense scored two touchdowns of its own and the offense added two more. Ending the season with a thirty-two game winning streak and its second state championship team, Annandale enjoyed the added honor of being ranked third in the entire nation.

Another first down pass for Annandale.

We got him!

Under the fine direction of coaches Bolding and Shriver, this year's freshman team compiled an admirable 2-2-2 record. With their slogan, "We pay the price," the squad bounced back after a poor beginning and won their last two games in typical Annandale tradition. With this kind of spirit and determination, Annandale can expect this team to produce some fine players in later seasons.

Mr. Scott's final year as coach is best year yet

With the toughest schedule of any school in the Northern Region, Annandale began its 1967-68 season with eight returning lettermen and high hopes for another successful season. Sweeping its first three matches, the Atoms showed that they had lost none of the strength of the two previous years. Facing its real test against Yorktown, Annandale trounced the Patriots with a lopsided score of 36-8. The grapplers closest match was against a determined Wakefield team, but the Atoms emerged victorious. Sweeping the rest of their dual meets, the Atoms moved into the regional tournament as undisputed favorites, with all twelve men qualifying.

The Atoms leaped into an early lead in the tournament and emerged as Regional Champions for the third year in a row, with the rest of the schools finishing far behind. The next weekend Annandale met its severest test against perennial state champion Granby High School. The Atoms were neck to neck with Granby's Blue Comets throughout the entire state tournament, but were finally edged by the close score of 60 to 54.

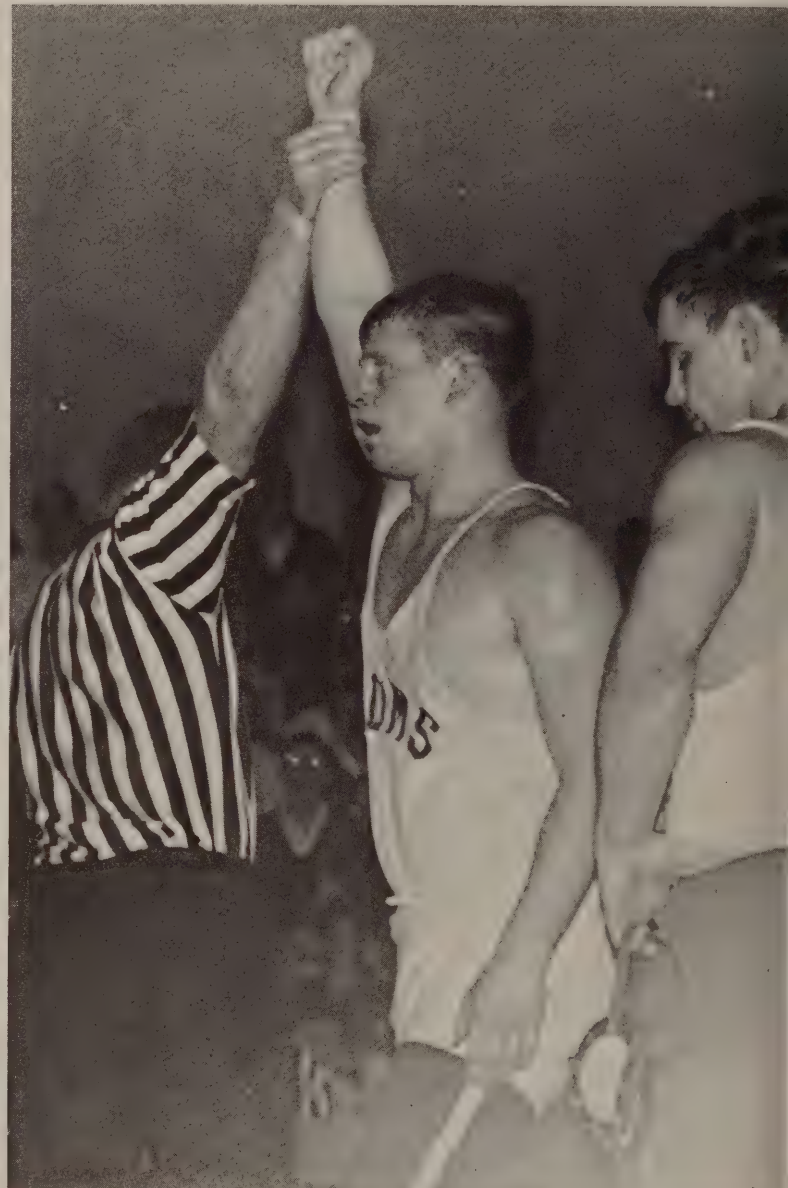

Mr. Scott can be proud of the performance of his wrestlers in his last year of coaching. Even though they did not capture the coveted state title, they did better than any one of Randy's previous championship caliber teams. This year Coach Scott produced three state champions, John Coleman, Jeff Von Beulwitz, and Steve Willis; a third in the state, Robby Waller; and a fourth in the state, Fritz Lee. In addition, in the regional tournament Bob Comerford and Steve Willis were champions; John Coleman and Rusty Guill were runners-up; Timmy Donahue, Robby Waller, and Macon Harper placed third; and Robert Coleman placed fourth. Finally, Mr. Scott's last team extended a three-year dual meet streak to thirty-two straight wins. Mr. Scott's fine teams are an obvious tribute to his talented coaching ability.

Junior Varsity Wrestlers follow suit with undefeated season

The J.V. team blazed through the Northern Region riding on top of a three year winning streak. In only two of its matches this year was the J.V. pressed by its opponents, its closest win by one point against Wakefield. The team was led this year by Jeff Crouch, Tom Waller, and Mike Waller all of whom were undefeated. Tim Gilroy, Rich Phillips, Kerry Parker, and Dick Wood each won all but one of their matches. With many seniors leaving the Varsity team, many of this year's J.V. wrestlers will move into Varsity positions. We are looking forward to a fine performance next year by these athletes.

Things are looking up for varsity basketball

Brian Snoddy finds the range for two points.

The Annandale Varsity Basketball team again finished fourth in the Northern District while compiling an overall record of 8-10. With the return of five lettermen, three seniors and two juniors, the Atoms jumped to a pre-Christmas record of 4-2 and an optimistic outlook for a successful season. After the Christmas break the cagers began playing their district schedule. The regular season schedule was highlighted by a stunning upset of Stuart and a thrilling victory over Fairfax. Under the leadership of Rod Hinkle, the Atoms flattened Fairfax in their first game of the Northern District tournament. The next game ended in a heart-breaking defeat to a powerful Woodson team in which both teams played superbly.

With the return of numerous underclassmen, who did a vast majority of the playing this year, the Atoms are looking forward to a fine season next year.

Varsity and J.V. Hockey teams complete excellent season

Nancy keeps control of the ball.

If you notice any girls limping down the halls with banged-up ankles and bruised thumbs, you'll know that you're looking at an Annandale Hockey player. The Varsity team did exceptionally well this season, tying with Stuart for district championship and scoring second in the county. Why was the record so great? Miss Peters, head coach, put the credit on good team work, experienced players (no Varsity hockey player had less than 2 years experience), and a strong but sometimes battered winning spirit. Congratulations, girls, on a fabulous season.

Mary Sue dribbles down the field toward another goal for the undefeated varsity squad.

The J. V. Hockey team tied, if not topped the Varsity in spirit and initiative. Their record was identical to the Varsity's. Mrs. Hall served as head coach to the J. V. team, and both Miss Peters and she agree that this year's J. V. team did an unbelievably good job. Second year players led the rest of the girls through hard and long, rainy and muddy practices to compile a winning record. There were many high scorers for the team, but combined teamwork was responsible for the wins.

Girls' Basketball teams complete winning season

Both the Varsity and the Junior Varsity girls' basketball teams had impressive records this year. Miss Buck, who has weathered the position of Varsity coach for 14 years now, and Mrs. Haskell, the new J.V. coach, led the girls through grueling one-and-one-half-hour practice sessions daily. This rough schedule was compounded by two games nearly every week. The hard work paid off as the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams came through with a winning season for Annandale.

Annandale Bowling Club adds a Teachers' League to teams

A new idea for the active Bowling Club was initiated this year. Mr. Shriver, the club's sponsor, formed a Teachers' League consisting of two teams. The club bowled every Monday after school in informal and league competition. The officers for the year were Linda Holscher, president; Neel Martin and Darrell Newland, Secretaries; and Bob Zikowitz, Treasurer. The club sported a large and interested number of prospective professional bowlers, plus a lot of kids having a real good time.

Cross Country team places third in regional meet

Under the able coaching of Charles Kelley and Cmdr. Buckley, Annandale's Cross Country team finished its best season in four years. Led by Don Windsor, Mark Parris, and Horace Mays, the harriers continued a two year old winning streak by winning all four of their dual and triangle meets. These victories were backed up with a 3rd place finish at the Regional meet and a 17th place finish in the State meet at Williamsburg. The J.V. team had an equally impressive record, having compiled a 4-0 record.

The Class of '68

For most of us, our freshman year brings back memories of Jolly Wally, our first "Spaghetti Dinner," confusion, big seniors (gosh, seniors were great), and an isolated world of dreams. Then our sophomore year came along. We finally had someone to look down upon (besides teachers). Freshmen were short, stupid, ugly and it's a good thing we were never like that. In eleventh grade we reached the point of receiving second-hand information from the seniors. They warned us of the hard work. We sure were scared. In the spring we experienced our first term papers and college boards. Soon our rings arrived and before we knew it our first prom was here. But we were only second best then.

In September our hopes and dreams became a reality. Finally, we were Seniors-THE BEST. For the first time we were moved out of the annex. What we had heard about the work was true but we procrastinated and found time for better things. Unfortunately, the term papers and weekly themes had to be done. Some of our classes gave us the opportunity to do original and independent thinking, which was rewarded with higher grades. The Senior Lounge brought our class closer together while the Senior Tables enabled us to form cliques. The close of the first semester brought a relief of college acceptances and a new look towards the future.

Because we were the richest class in the history of Annandale High School, the privilege of financing three proms was bestowed upon us, the great '68. As the grande finale of a four year success, this year's "Spaghetti Dinner" surpassed them all. Money hungry seniors again appeased their appetites with the profits from a class card sell-out and an SRO Senior Sillies. Exams came, need we say more? Then Baccalaureate, a climax to Class Night, graduation, and four years of vivid memories.

Still at it, Sue?

In Memoriam

Light stabs through the dark that engulfs us

Sparkling eyes, smiling face

Golden hair gently in the breeze

Sunlight radiates on the sea

As he rides, laughing to the wind, the waves roll—

Death reaches out, grasps him

Strikes down the strength of glorious youth:

He is gone.

For us: tears, despair,

An end.

For him: hope, joy,

A beginning.

Our wishes go with him—

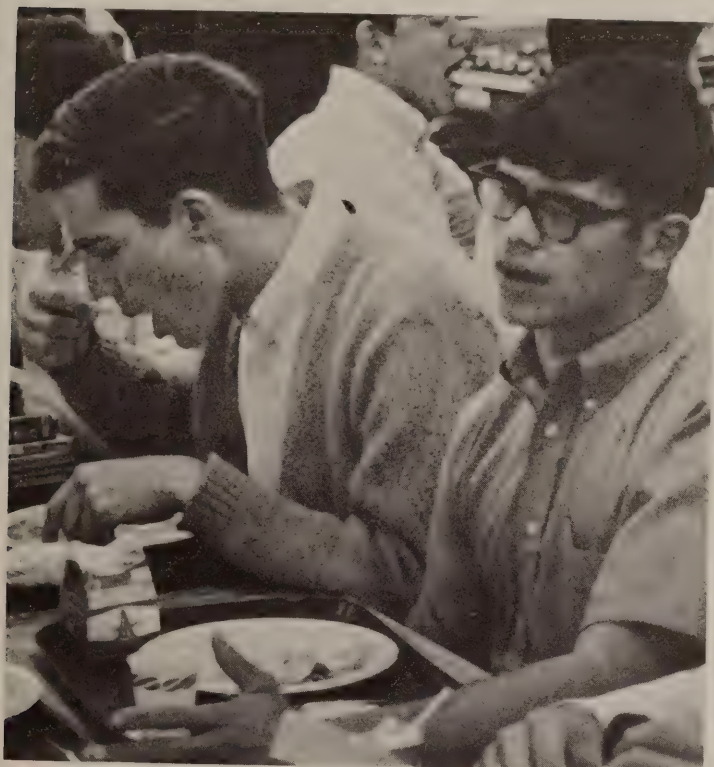

Forever.

CLASS OF '69

. . . and it came to pass that a monstrous, earth-shaking contraption was dropped into the land of the living. It winked red and white buttons coated generously with dripping pineapple-butterscotch sauce, and sprinkled with nuts and cherries. Around its right lever hung a band of gold sparkling with peridot. It roamed o'er the earth salvaging pennies, nickles, and extra rolls. Not wanting to harm, it came only to startle and astound the unbelieving, drab populace, and that it did. Armed with letter-jacket, Young Life songbook, and prom invitation, and with faithful Spook at its heels, this unbelievably miraculous contraption fought and conquered the admiration of the countryside, and then traveled on, slowly, into the sunset, leaving only memories of a very unusual happening.

Give me back my roll!

CLASS OF '70

Class cheers, spirit, pep rallies, dances,
 All part of the complex system of
 Fun under a simple title of Sophomores.
 Football games, floats, Pink Panthers,
 The mounting momentum of thoughts
 Of people wanting to be recognized
 As a member of the class of 1970.
 Short stories, Biology tests, vocabulary words;
 How could you easily forget the funny
 Feeling in you when you found out that
 The Assignment was for today, not tomorrow?
 All a small part of the Super Sophomore . . .

Jeanne discovers a fashionable monocle.

Neal searches industriously for an article worth copying.

First Row: Bill Clark—President; Kathy McCaffrey—Vice-President; Second Row: Pink Panther—mascot; Lori Phillips—Secretary; Roberta Kennedy—Treasurer.

Sponsors: Miss Wilson, Mr. Barns, Mrs. Middleton.

CLASS OF '71

Do you remember the hostile looks on the Senior faces when you first stepped into the hall? The eruptions of "Hi Freshy" by the Sophs? Oh, that first day! The day you learned that your teachers believe in giving enormous heaps of homework.

But all that has gone by. You have joined several clubs. You have had the thrill of trying out for football or cheerleading. You have shown the Seniors that they were wrong in thinking you were dumb.

Yes. You, the Class of '71, have learned how to enjoy Annandale High School.

Class Sponsors: Captain Breitenberg; Mrs. Mooney; Mrs. Wilkes.

Freshman Homecoming Representative, Terri Keyes.

Freshman Class Officers: Debbie Johnston, Vice-President; Patty Pederson, Treasurer; Mike Guthrie, President; Ann Cope, Secretary.

I just might like this school.

ADVERTISEMENTS

Entrance, Lights —
 Fulfillment of suburban life.
 Freedom, complications —
 Traffic and flashing lights.
 Stores, shops, restaurants —
 An urban suburbia.
 Springfield, Annandale locals,
 Students, adults — shoppers.
 The old and the dead meet the new,
 Smiles and tears greet passersby.
 Students talk to classmates,
 Parents see long-forgotten faces —
 All meet, smile, live.
 Suburbia and its simplicity,
 Suburbia and its complexities —
 Mixed, molded into one.
 Buses, taxicabs, pedestrians,
 Buildings, apartments — growing.
 Here the stores survive,
 The people buy and gossip.
 Here is the place for everything
 The place of sponsors and helpers.
